

Southeast Coalition on Health (SECOH) is a nonprofit entity created for the primary purpose of developing a health information exchange (HIE) capability to optimize healthcare delivery, management and coordination in the northwest Georgia and southeast Tennessee area.

Its goal is to influence the shape of healthcare to improve the health of the residents of our local communities.

The Coalition is open to employers, providers and health plans who are committed to improving healthcare quality and outcomes.

For more information:

Call: 706-422-6501

Email: info@southeastcoh.org

Mailing address: P.O. Box 2629

Calhoun, GA 30703

Website: www.southeastcoh.org

Southeast Coalition on Health

Dedicated to developing a health information exchange (HIE) capability to optimize healthcare delivery, management and coordination in northwest Georgia and southeast Tennessee to support population health and care coordination.

Mission

Support population health management and care coordination by making comprehensive longitudinal health information available electronically to providers at the point of care.

Why establish a health coalition?

Southeast Coalition on Health (SECOH) has been formed as an outgrowth of Population Health Management initiatives in the northwest Georgia area. The need for care coordination and clinical integration lead to the formation of the coalition.

Population health initiatives

Employers in the area and their networks have been working on population health initiatives. For several years they have been evolving their population health strategy to have healthier members.

From member health data integration to support health coaching to the broader goal of comprehensive care coordination through the availability of a longitudinal health record for every member.

What is the Southeast Coalition on Health

SECOH is a non-profit entity to bring purchasers and providers of care together with the common goal of optimizing the health of the communities in which they are located. The groups share the objective to improve care delivery through access to timely and meaningful clinical information.

To accomplish clinical integration, a Health Information Exchange (HIE) is needed and has been defined. SECOH is the entity building and housing the HIE.

SECOH developed an HIE for the northwest Georgia and southeast Tennessee area. It will manage and own the HIE.

SECOH consists of a manager reporting to a Board of Directors and Advisory Committee consisting of employers and healthcare providers from local practices, facilities and other medical services.

Clinical Integration

Lightbeam and Tangible Solutions were selected to build out the platform and administer the HIE called Clinical Integration Connection. Working with community healthcare providers, they are establishing interoperability connections and clinical integration.

Clinical Integration Connection works across all electronic medical records platforms to ensure a patient's health information is available to all treating healthcare providers regardless of the health plan.

Giving healthcare providers real time patient information at the point of care to provide comprehensive care to their patients.